Preparing Lessons and Teaching 100-Hours of Hesquiaht Language in a Hesquiaht Land-based Camp

This Indigenous Hesquiaht Participatory Action Research focuses on Indigenous language acquisition for teachers and learners, co-creation of language teaching materials with fluent speakers, and the design and implementation of a 100-hour ḥiḥiškʷiiʔatḥa ‘Hesquiaht language’ revitalization camp by the researcher, a community insider to Hesquiaht First Nation. In planning and delivering the twenty-two day camp, the researcher draws on the idea of Hesquiaht Language Flow [HLF]; a set of values drawn from learning with Hesquiaht fluent speakers in the planning and delivery of language lessons
